Circulation Studio Announces Launch of Dental Marketing Division “Circulation Dental”

Digital marketing agency based out of Laguna Beach, CA launches new dental marketing division to serve emerging client-base

Laguna Beach, CA (January 11th, 2022) – Circulation Studio, a general digital marketing agency based out of Laguna Beach, CA announced today the launch of Circulation Dental, a dental digital marketing division and extension of Circulation Studio focused primarily on helping small and multi-location dental offices with their online presence.

“Although we haven’t targeted dental clients specifically, we’ve been lucky enough to work with a number of great dental offices throughout Southern California,” said Steve Lepore, founder and digital marketing specialist at Circulation Studio. “It just seemed natural to formalize everything we’ve learned over the last 7 or 8 years working in digital marketing for dental practices and forming Circulation Dental was a logical step in the process.”

In addition to web design and hosting services, Circulation Dental will be offering a range of digital marketing services including: Social Media Management, Paid Advertising, Reputation Management, Yelp Ads Management and Search Engine Optimization.

Continued Mr. Lepore: “Over the course of working with several offices we needed to engage with their patient communications and management software providers who we found were also offering a la carte digital marketing services. We found the level of service to be very minimal, very mechanical and in a word ‘lacking’. Our goal is offer dedicate account management that fits their unique goals, identify and setup; basically each practice can have their own small marketing department without incurring the expense of having one in-house.”

Dental practices, including both general practices and specialists looking to improve their online presence are encouraged to contact Circulation Dental by either scheduling an introductory appointment or filling out an audit request form found on the newly-launched website.
